

MAY SEND TROOPS INTO MEXICO TO AVENGE HANGINGS

State Department Greatly Stirred By Latest Attack on Americans.

Orders to investigate the hanging of two Americans in the state of Sonora, Mexico, by an execution squad of the rebel army, were issued to all the United States consuls in northern Mexico today.

The American victims are said to have been captives, innocent of any wrong, but wantonly put to death by rebels in order to precipitate intervention by the United States in Mexico.

The consuls are instructed to find out the victims' names, what crime they were charged with, and the circumstances of their execution. The United States denies the right of the rebels to execute anyone, no matter what offenses are charged.

May Bring Crisis.

The incident is regarded as one of extreme gravity. It has caused Orozco and Salazar carry out their threats to kill Americans by the wholesale, the United States would be forced to send troops into Mexico to exterminate the rebels. Yesterday's outrage may bring the long expected crisis.

For two weeks the Mexican situation has gradually been growing worse. The action of the rebels driving the Mexicans from their Chihuahua colonies up into Texas has aroused an extreme amount of bitterness toward Mexico among people of Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico. Moreover, the Mexicans have powerful influence in Washington in the person of Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah. The most dangerous thing Orozco has done was to attack the Mexican Mormons.

The Mormons occupy the most fertile and productive farms in Mexico. The recent statement of the bishop of the Mormon church in Utah that the Mexican Mormon families' property is worth $10,000 on the average per family, gives some idea of their prosperity.

Replenish Their Supplies.

It is thought Orozco deliberately planned the looting of these peaceful agriculturists, after driving them from the country, in order to replenish his provision, and equip his impoverished army. The cutting off of shipments of arms and ammunition through the American customs houses was the beginning of Orozco's defeat at Torreon. The rebels are said now to be openly boasting that what they could not obtain through the customs houses they have taken by force from American families. The Mormons possessed large supplies of arms and ammunition, which the rebels have taken.

The Mormons have been in Mexico nearly thirty years. A population of about 6,000 of them developed eight irrigation projects near Casas Grandes, Chihuahua. They live in fine homes, build fine roads, and are the model farmers of Mexico.

HOUSE MANAGERS DENY ARCHBALD'S ANSWER TO CHARGE

In Answer, Filed With Senate, They Renew Allegations and Demand Trial.

Renewing their charge that Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, is guilty of the "misbehavior, high crimes, and misdemeanors" charged in the articles of impeachment, and denying all parts of his answer which dispute the truth of the articles and at the same time calling on the Senate for a trial of the case, the managers for the House in the Archbald impeachment proceeding today made replication in the Senate to the answer of the accused judge, which was filed July 20.

The House managers appeared in the Senate at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and in the presence of Judge Archbald and his counsel, and with the usual formality and ceremony, gave answer to the answer of Judge Archbald. This answer or replication has already been adopted in the House. Stripped of its preliminary formalities, the answer is:

1. That the said articles do severally set forth impeachable offenses, high crimes, and misdemeanors, as defined in the Constitution of the United States, and that the same are proper to be answered unto by the said Robert W. Archbald, judge as charged in the articles of impeachment, and that the House of Representatives is ready to prove the same.

2. That the House has adopted a resolution for the exercise of authority to send to the Senate such subsequent pleadings as may be necessary.

3. That the House today does not complete the task of joining issue and getting in readiness for the trial. Under an order passed by the Senate, both sides have until next Saturday to file additional answers or pleadings.

CITIZENS RALLY TO AID OF COL. HUFF, JUDGE'S ACCUSER

Hundreds Sign Petition to Congress to Take Up Charges.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 1.—Hundreds of signatures had been obtained today to a petition demanding that Congress take up the charges upon which Col. W. A. Huff, for ten years mayor, and one of the most popular residents of this city, demands the impeachment of Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court.

The petition points out that Colonel Huff's character is unimpeachable, and that his charges are so serious as to reflect both upon the moral and professional conduct of the jurist.

Judge Speer has announced that some other federal judge will pass on the contempt proceedings he has brought against the former mayor. Meanwhile Colonel Huff is out on bail, and he stated today that he had received offers of unlimited funds for his fight from friends here.

He positively refused to withdraw or modify a single allegation made against the federal jurist, despite the fact that Speer, with tears streaming down his cheeks, denied each separate allegation from the grand jury, and that Huff was in a conspiracy to ruin him.

While Judge Speer was passing to his place on the bench a great crowd filled his court room, and many tried to get close enough to Colonel Huff to shake hands with him and assure him of their support. Speer sat stumily in his chair for several minutes while this was going on. He then arose and emphatically denied each of the allegations his accuser had brought against him. The judge denounced the newspapers for printing the charges and the judges' correspondents for sending them broadcast throughout the country. He asserted that the Huff estate had been during the thirteen years that it has been in the custody of the court, and while admitting this seemed a long time for such action to remain unsettled, insisted there was good reason for it.

He denied he had gone to Eagle River, Alaska, at the expense of the estate, that a valuable bear skin rug had been purchased from estate funds, or that he had appropriated for his own use mining stocks that should have gone to the estate.

As the judge continued his emotion overcame him, and the tears were streaming down his face at the finish. He then announced that he would admit Huff to bail, and would ask an associate judge to pass upon the contempt proceedings.

Last evening a large crowd, headed by the police, proceeded to arrange a home and serenaded him. Some of the more radical wanted to proceed to Judge Speer's residence and blind him in effigy, but the leaders persuaded them not to do so. Judge Speer is going to Nova Scotia for a four months' vacation, and unless Congress acts there will be nothing done about the case until he returns.

Joint Board Meets.

GOOD SUM ADDED TO MEMORIAL FUND BY ENTERTAINMENT

Program At Belasco Pleases Good Sized Audience.

Financially and otherwise the entertainment in aid of the Titanic memorial fund given last night at the Belasco Theater was a success. A good sum was added to the fund, which was started by Mrs. Evelyn Gurley-Kane, shortly after the sea disaster. The performance, which was planned to be an "evening garden party" on the roof of the theater, had to be transferred to the theater proper because of the rain.

Mrs. Evelyn Gurley-Kane rendered Wagner's "Erl King," with accompaniment by the Fifteenth Cavalry Band. Mrs. Gurley-Kane also gave a short talk before the main part of the program, in which she outlined the purpose of the memorial and described the catastrophe in an impressive manner.

Charles B. Hanford, the actor, read "Vivian's Memorial," by Philander Johnson. The musical program included a cornet solo by Arthur S. Witcomb, leader of the Fifteenth Cavalry Band, and a vocal solo by the Marine Corps Band. In addition to these special attractions the regular program of interesting Kinemacolor pictures was shown.

SUBURBAN RAILWAY MAKES BIG CUT IN MT. VERNON FARES

Rate Reduced From 75 to 50 Cents to Comply With Commission Order.

Sweeping reductions in fares charged over the Washington and Virginia Railway Company from Washington to Virginia points, notably Mt. Vernon, were put into effect by the company today, in accordance with the recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Beginning today the round-trip fare to Mt. Vernon is but 50 cents, instead of 75 cents as heretofore. The Interstate Commerce Commission declared the 75-cent rate to be unreasonable just a month ago and gave the company until August 1 to adjust its fares, not only to Mt. Vernon but to other points on the Mt. Vernon line and the Falls Church and Fairfax divisions. The commission prescribed a maximum of fares, which in most instances has been met.

The commission suggested that the Mt. Vernon fare should not be over 30 cents for one way and 45 cents for the round trip on local trains, and 35 cents and 50 cents on through trains for the accommodation of tourists. The railway company today announced a flat rate on all trains of 30 cents and 50 cents a round trip, lower than the maximum for through trains, but slightly higher than that for local trains.

Other fares that were at issue in the complaint against the company filed by J. H. Butler, of Alexandria, in behalf of himself and other patrons, and that were found unreasonable by the commission, were reduced beginning today. Though the Interstate Commerce Commission is not now in session, officials say that the tariffs as amended meet with the favor of the commission and that no further action is contemplated. The list of points receiving a reduced fare includes Fairfax and points in the Fairfax zone, West Falls Church, Robey, Antrim, Burr, Dunn Loring, Enola, Wedderburn, Woodford, Franklin, Vienna, Park Street, and other towns farther out.

Old Captain Was Ruptured

If this should meet the eye of any person who is ruptured, let him or her write Capt. W. A. Collins, 225 W. Arsenal St., Watertown, N. Y., and get the book which tells of the Captain's experiences. He was for many years a sufferer (double rupture) and had become bed-ridden, yet he luckily found something that cured his hernia completely and gave him better health with a prolonged life. The book describes how this was done and legends of others have followed the information with the grand result of curing their own ruptures quickly and easily. A post card will bring the book and a box of the remedies which will be given free to anyone who applies. Better cut out this notice as it may not be printed again. Those who are wearing torn-fabric trusses, plasters, etc., will be gratified in the genuine chance of getting a genuine, speedy, inexpensive cure.
